1. Introduction

Flooding is a natural process but it can have devastating consequences for people and property. Kashmir is no exception to floods; floods have occurred at regular intervals in the past like 1903, 1905, 1909, 1928, 1948, 1950, 1951, 1953, 1954, 1956, 1957, 1959, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1969, 1972, 1973, 1976, 1986, 1992, 1995, 1996, 2006 and 2014.

The valley of Kashmir is a bowl-shaped low-level basin surrounded by high mountains and hills in all sides. It is believed that it was basically a large lake called "SATISAR". As a result of geomorphological transformations, the huge lake got drained out through Baramulla and gave birth to a series of low-level water bodies, rakhs and wet lands with only one central drainage channel known as River Jhelum, which is a part of Indus River system.

It has been recognized that, while floods cannot be prevented, they can certainly be managed to minimize loss of lives, livelihood systems, property and damage to infrastructure and public utilities. Various measures for management of floods will ultimately lead to reduction in vulnerability to floods. Sustained efforts are required to address the problem to reduce the impact of floods in the short term and flood risk in the medium and the long term.

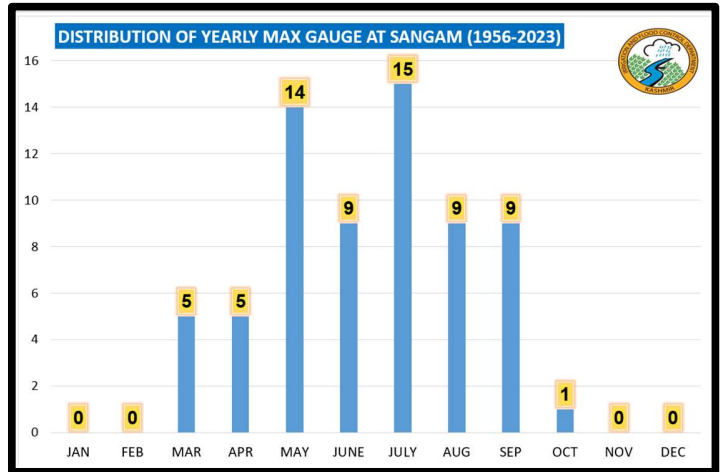

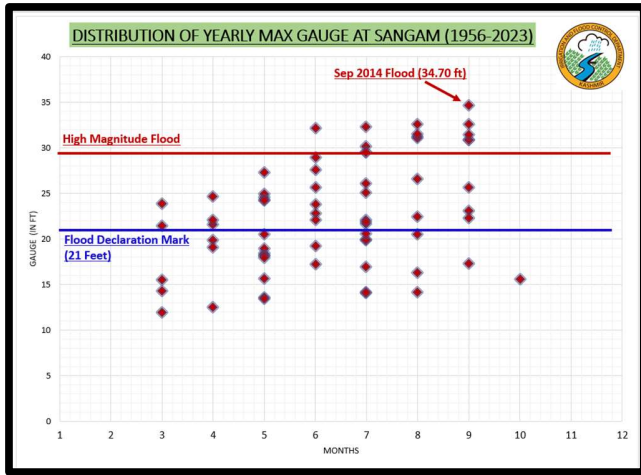

The purpose of the Flood Response Manual is to ensure the constant vigil, prompted response and proper coordination to mitigate any extreme weather event resulting in a flood like situation. The Flood forecasting and warning play an important role in the process and the Decision Support System (DSS) is the final operational aspect of it.

3. Flood Early Warning System

3.1. Methodology of Flood Early Warning System

The Methodology of the Flood Early Warning System being followed is as under:

1. The India Metrological Department (IMD) forecast serves as the first step in the process, if the forecasted storm event is of considerable magnitude and Central Water Commission (CWC), IOFS forecasted levels suggest a surge in the water levels in the water bodies, after due evaluation appropriate advisories shall be issued to administration & general public.
2. When the storm event starts the active monitoring of the Doppler Rader of IMD shall be ensured and on basis of the behavior of the storm event necessary action/advisory shall be initiated.
3. The quantification (verification) of the storm event shall be assessed from the readings from the Automatic rainfall sensors installed in the Jhelum Basin.
4. As the water levels responds to the rainfall the in the upper catchment the active monitoring of the tread of the water levels shall be ensure through the automatic/manual gauge recordings. If any abnormal rise in water levels in noticed in the water levels at any station the appropriate necessary action (advisory) shall be initiated.
5. Active monitoring of all the areas shall be ensured and reports of any damage to flood management infrastructure shall be evaluated.
6. On basis of the reports of damage to flood management infrastructure, the trend of the water level and the forecasted weather, if it is assessed that the flood may not be manageable in a region, evacuation warning from a region shall be issued. In case the Central Business District (Srinagar) is at the risk of flooding necessary preventive measures shall be adopted.
